Till the end of time

Yes, till the end of time, though dog-eared and worn, this yearbook will remain a record of our high school days at York. A Conference champion football team, a voluminous York-Hi, the P.T.A. Mardi Gras, and the Prom held at the Elmhurst Country Club, balanced a fruitful peacetime year. "There's a war on" has now changed to "We're in the muddle of reconversion"; but the future is glowing like a neon sign, beckoning us forward.

Dr. Tozier Leads the Way Through a Successful Year

At the wheel of York's "ship of state" one finds our chief executive and counselor, Doctor Roy B. Tozier. After completing four years here, Dr. Tozier has well earned the respect and honor due him. His program for progress and increased efficiency is taking a definite shape. He has been the staunch proponent of many noteworthy improvements at York. Through the darkest days of the development of York's Student Council, Dr. Tozier found time from his heavy schedule to guide the organization over the rough spots. Such tireless efforts of his have given the Council a high place in the school government. The addition of rooms on the third floor, new lighting systems in certain rooms, have highlighted the school improvements. He proved loyal to the "great American game" by supporting a new baseball team. Working in close cooperation with the students, Dr. Tozier has attained notable success.

The Hand of Our Board of Education Leads York On

These people represent the electorate of the school district. It is their task to administrate and guide the school toward a more efficient organization. The Board of Education's achievements are evident in the school's progress. George E. Billett, president; Louis B. Falb, secretary; C. A. Richards, member; Mrs. Paul A. Royer, member; O. A. Stoltz, member; and William C. Kane, member, appointed to the Board after Mr. Falb's resignation last fall.

Mr. Roy DeShane, Assistant Principal and Dean of Boys, and Mrs. Ethel Wall, Dean of Girls, have many and varied responsibilities. Mrs. Wall heads the Student Welfare Program, which provides clothing and books for the needy students. Checking absences and adjusting pupil-teacher differences are some of her other duties. Mr. DeShane has the unenviable task of planning and organizing the schedules and activities which keep the "wheels of York" in excellent running order.

Student Government Makes a Success of Its First Year

Backed by an overwhelming student vote of approval, vigilantly supervised by Miss Ida Lane Settle and Mr. Howard Van Norman, operated by alert, interested students, York's student Government has successfully terminated its maiden voyage.

To function, a student council needs a firm, yet elastic, constitution; it needs a cooperative crew of workers. All these prerequisites were supplied to York's council. Provided with the best tools of labor, the council had, then, to prove its worth.

At the top to direct the council's program are three executives: a president, a vice-president, and a secretary. The constitution provides for five administrative committees which act as advisors to the executive officers. These bodies, the Activity Committee, the Assembly Committee, the Calendar Committee, the Public Relations Committee, and the Safety Committee, serve to broaden the contacts of the council. Lastly every recognized organization and advisory group is represented by a delegate to the Council. It is the duty of these delegates to initiate legislation and to carry to the council the opinions of the students they represent.

Now the year which served as a test of the strength of the Student Government has passed. Now it would seem that the council deserves the undivided approbation of students and faculty members alike, not merely for its material accomplishments, but for what is far more important, the lessons it has taught in democracy and the American way of life.

Yorkites Await Teachers Homeward-Bound from Service

Welcomes are in order when nine vital members of York's personnel return from service in Uncle Sam's forces. With the coming of peace we find their return one of the finer fruits of victory. Mr. G. A. Zacharias, American History, Co-sponsor of Historical Society. "Take the next sub-unit for tomorrow."

The Office Staff Always Carries On

Along the main corridor of our school is situated the main office. Miss Sielaff has the pleasant task of recording our report card marks. In her possession are all old grades, our excuses for being late, personality ratings and, to the sadness of some, failure analyses. Miss Kunesh, attendance clerk, has the duty of keeping track of the whereabouts of some 1,600 students. Miss Swanson and Mrs. Poole are well known for their work in the mimeograph department. Miss Danielson, secretary to Dr. Tozier, superintends the editing of the weekly bulletins. Also involved in the intricate task of keeping the students and their records in line are two comparative newcomers, Miss Hart and Miss Zeeman. Seldom seen, but unusually adept and capable is Mrs. Anderman. Her position of Secretary to the Board of Education holds the enviable transaction of all money in the school funds. Topping off this array of personnel we find Mr. Bob Kerr, Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds. His innumerable activities convey him through York's halls constantly. If your locker is stuck or the lights go out, you are sure to find "Bob" on the job.

Library Is Center of Attraction for Busy Yorkites

York's library is under the supervision of two librarians, Miss Ellis and Mrs. Spencer. They have jurisdiction over the nine thousand volumes in our library, the greater portion of which are supplementary reference books for courses taught at York. Fiction for the reading pleasure of students makes up a large share of the total books, however.

The routine work of the library is done in a large part by a voluntary student staff. These students are chosen from applicants maintaining a C average throughout their terms of service; if their marks drop below this level, they are not permitted to continue. These students must also pass a standard library test with a score of 100 and know the Dewey system of classification. This is the first year that students have received points for helping out in the library. They must devote one hour each day assisting the librarians. For their services they receive points at the rate of 100 per year. At the Honor Day Assembly they receive pins.

During the first week of school the freshmen are brought into the library to become acquainted with its facilities. Later in the year the freshman English classes are given a special unit in library science. This unit includes learning how to use the card catalogue and other reference devices in the library to the best advantage. The unit is presented by the librarians and the English teacher.

The library issues pamphlets and bulletins from time to time to keep students posted on new material and on new bibliographies and visual-aid materials which are being made available from time to time.

Presenting Our Hit Parade in the York Album of Hits

In the uppermost position on the page we have the leading girl student of the Class of 1946, Joyce Anderson. Joyce has been active in Latin Club and National Honor Society and has served the yearbook on the business staff, becoming business manager this year. Immediately below her is one of the best tackles ever produced by York—a scholar, a football player, and the secretary of the Class of 1946, Gilbert Bailey is a Yorkite we can all be proud of. The next photo gives us Harold Bendigkeit, captain of the lightweight football team, secretary-treasurer of the senior class, and a member of the National Honor Society. The photo in lower left is Mary Collins, Thespian secretary and National Honor Society member, and a girl with more friends than you can shake a stick at. Next is Sara Irvin, Student Council secretary, president of Latin Club, and recipient of the coveted D.A.R. citizenship award. Last, but by no means least, on the right-hand of page is our genial Y's Tales editor, Bob Kiehn. Bob is also president of the senior class along with numerous other extra-curricular activities.

The 1946 Hits Will Be Tomorrow's All-Time Favorites

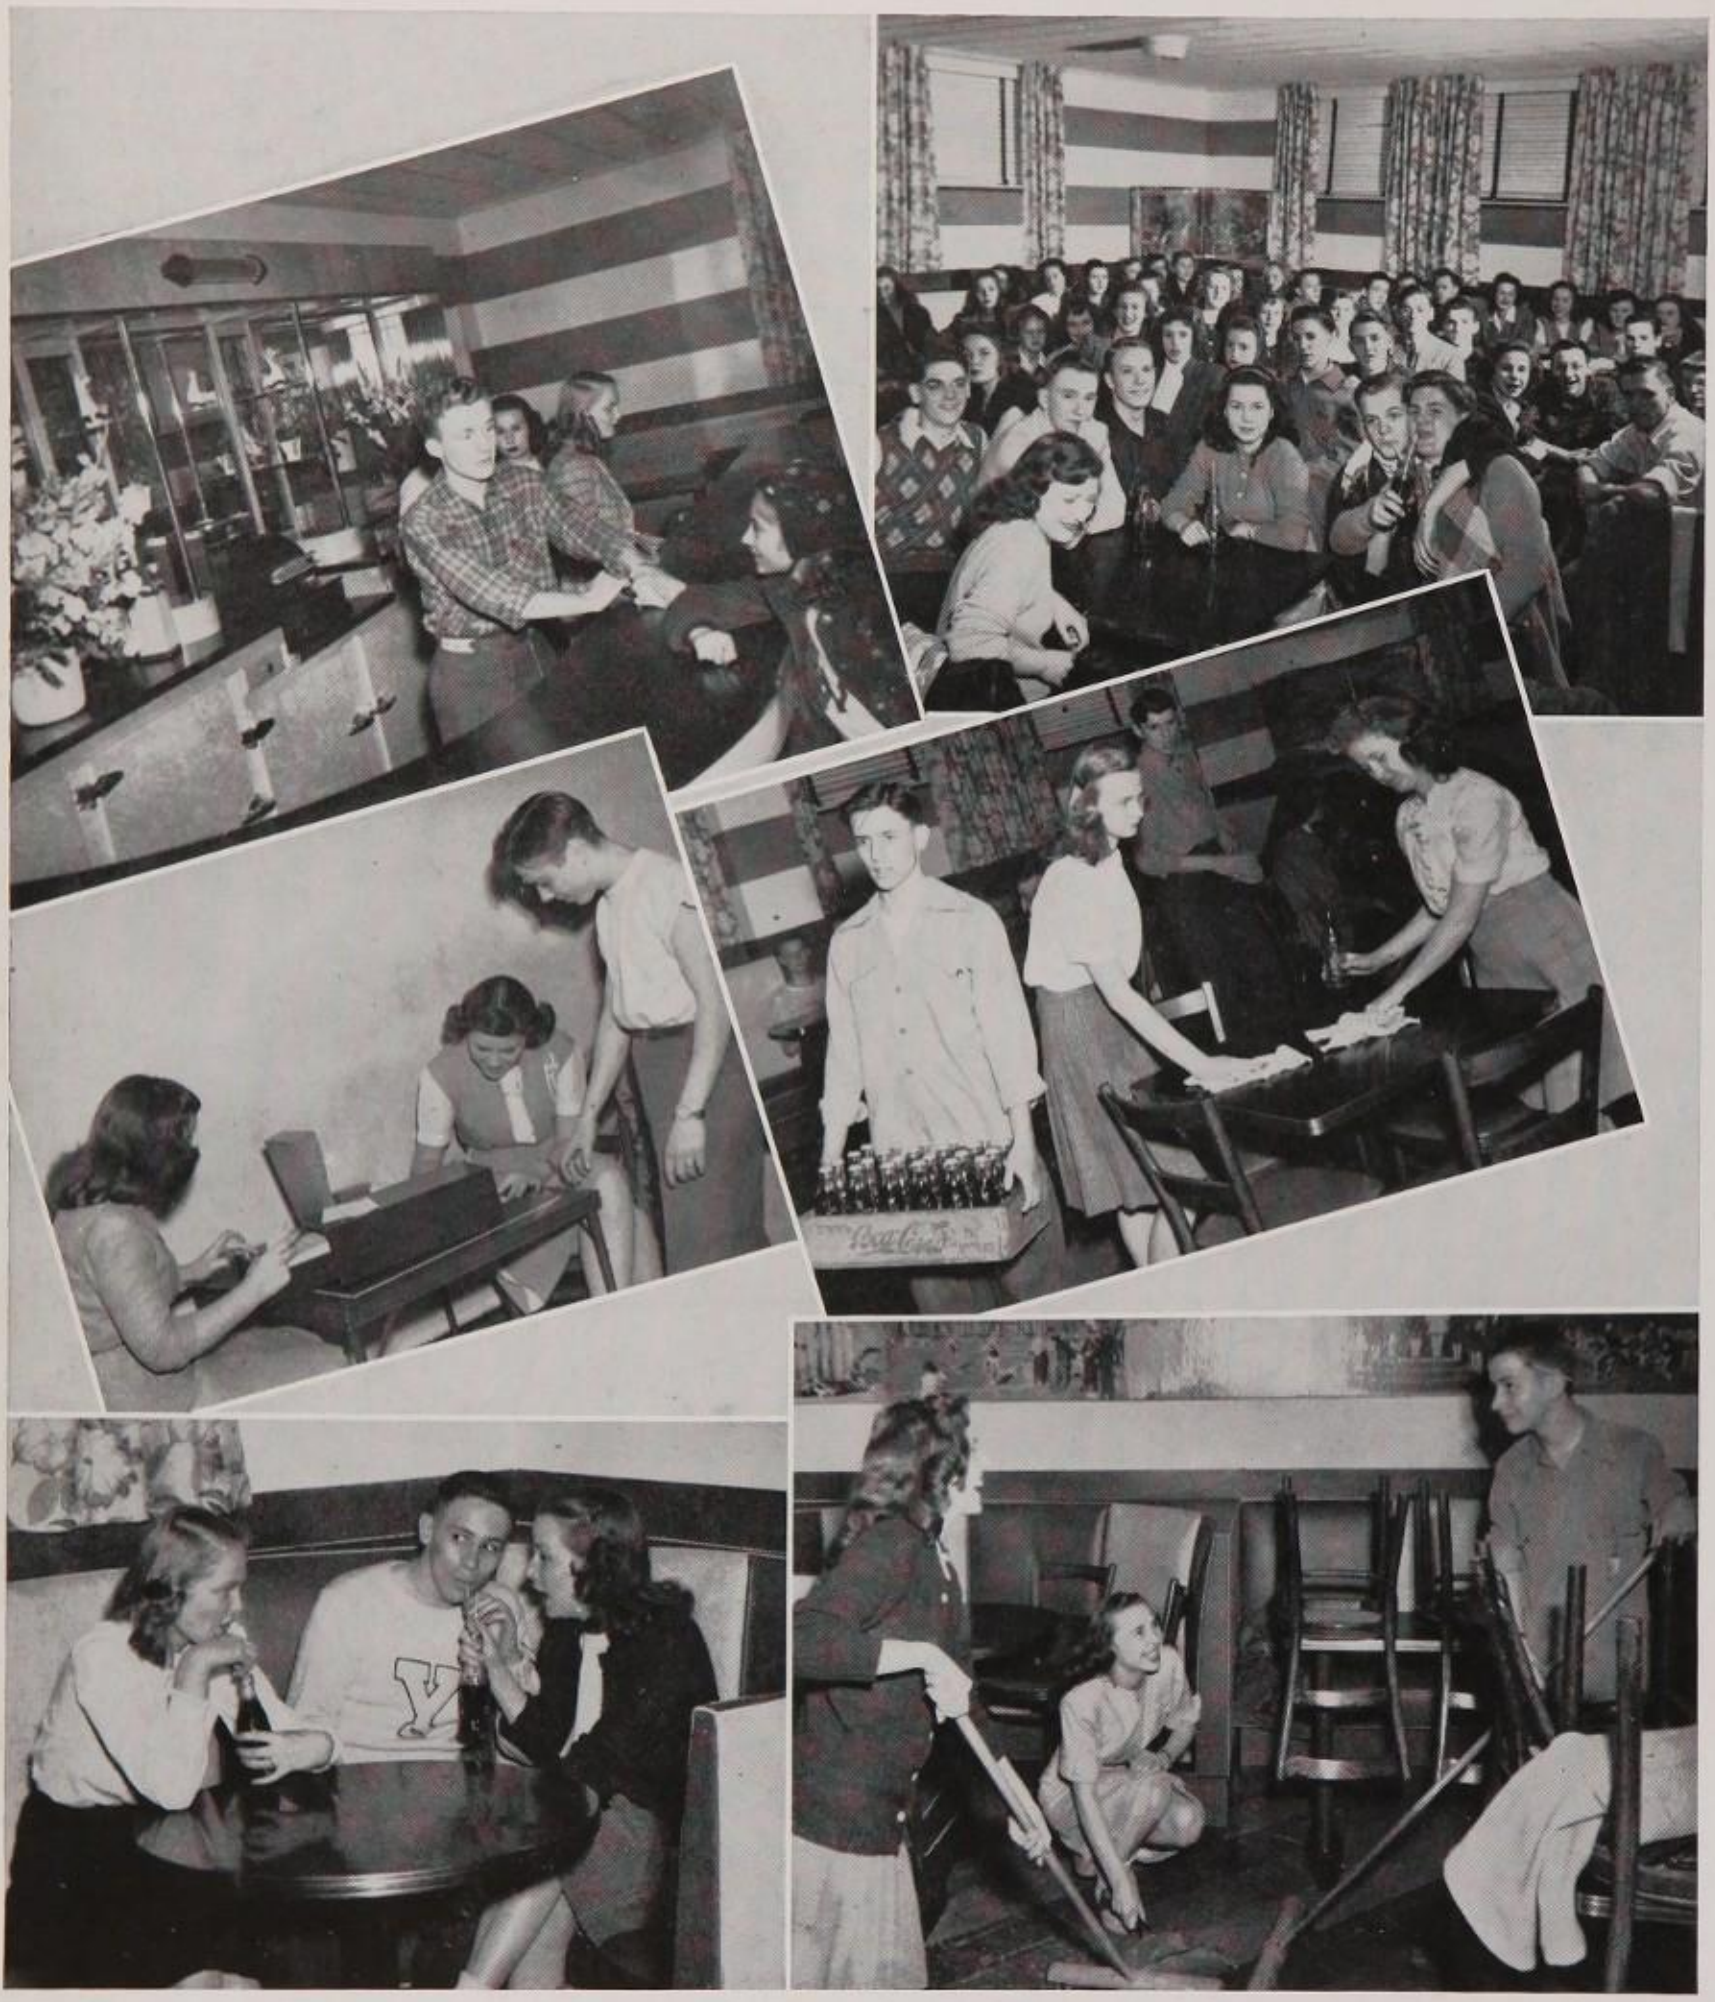
Youth Center Becomes a Reality After Years of Dreams



The senior class this year feels that the proper spot in the yearbook to picture the new Elmhurst Youth Center is in their section of the book, for the realization of this dream was accomplished after planning and effort which spanned their years in high school. Its actual accomplishment climaxes those years of effort just as graduation crowns their scholastic climb.

The popular meeting place is open to members after school daily in the afternoons, remaining open on Friday and Saturday evenings as well as Saturday afternoons.

Kiehn Edits Y's Tales

The production staff of the yearbook is divided into various committees. The School Committee has the job of identifying pictures of each class and writing the headlines. The Administration Committee has the task of compiling those witty sayings of teachers and writing the headlines for pages. The Activities Committee writes the articles telling the functions of each club. It also writes headlines for the clubs. The Senior Committee had to write headlines this year besides their usual task of scheduling seniors for their photographs and the compiling of the extra-curricular activities of the seniors. The Sports Committee's job is to write up the different sports, write headlines, and identify the pictures taken at the games and track meets.

Our staff photographers, Norman Jones and Ed Herter, have done a great deal of work. No doubt you have seen them around school snapping pictures. Jones took a large proportion of the pictures that appear on the mural at the Youth Center.

The Business Staff has charge of receiving payments outside the activity plan. It is their responsibility to distribute the annuals in the spring and receive the payments of the clubs for their pages in the yearbook. The Business Staff keeps the yearbook on a solvent basis. (We hope!)

The Art Staff is responsible for those clever cartoons and division pages. The students in the staff work diligently under Miss Johnson's guidance and deserve lots of the credit for our yearbook's attractiveness.

Y's Tales Room Scene of Vigorous Activity

"Can't anyone think of a page headline?" This cry could come only from Room 239, where students on the yearbook staff are busily working. Every seventh period is devoted to the task of preparing your annual. Students are asked to identify pictures, to write headlines, stories and to figure captions for each page in the yearbook. Mr. Morgan, the faculty director, can be seen dashing from photographic darkroom up to Room 239. He has the endless task of supervising and coordinating all the many steps in producing and financing the book, including such items as the sales campaign, contract negotiations with the commercial firms, taking and processing photographs, page layouts, writing, proofreading, and so on, ad infinitum. Much credit should be given to him for our annual. Bob Kiehn deserves thanks for a fine job as editor, as do the chairmen of the different committees, who have worked hard and diligently. Each student has his picture in the yearbook at least once. No end of pleasure is in store for us in years to come when we take out our yearbook and look over the familiar faces.

York Scholars Receive Honors at N. H. S. Induction

All aspiring York students look forward to membership in the National Honor Society. Those students, elected in their sixth semester, form the active membership and render service to their school by ushering at all non-athletic school events and by sponsoring a dance.

The election of members to the National Honor Society is based on scholarship, character, leadership, and service. Students are rated by their fellow students and the faculty.

This year the National Honor Society sponsored the Halloween Dance in the fall. As there are only eighteen active members, each one must cooperate and give unselfishly of his time.

Before the Christmas vacation a tea was given honoring the faculty.

At an assembly on April 24 the induction of new members and the re-affirmation of active members took place. The speaker was Reverend James J. Mertz, S.J., of Loyola University.

Miss Lois Ashton is the faculty sponsor of this organization.

Quill and Scroll Is Goal of Aspiring Journalists

Quill and Scroll is an international honorary society for journalists in high school. Since it is an honorary society, the student has to fulfill certain requirements before he can be appointed to the organization.

A student must be a junior or a senior in the upper third of his class. He must do superior work in writing, editing, or business management for the York-Hi or Y's Tales. Elected from the York-Hi, a student must have forty-five inches of material printed in the newspaper.

Opportunities to further his participation in journalistic activities are offered in Quill and Scroll sponsored contests.

Miss Eleanor Davis is the group's sponsor.

First Twelve-Page Issue Event in History of York-Hi

Have you ever heard of efficient confusion? This term is used to describe the staff room of the York-Hi any peaceful afternoon during the seventh period. To any passerby who stops to gaze (as most of them do), the scene is one of utter confusion; but the results speak for themselves. Out of this frenzied madhouse emerges the biggest and best York-Hi ever published. For the first time in the York-Hi's brilliant history it has not only consistently published eight and ten-page issues, but has reached the ultimate by producing a giant twelve-page Christmas edition. Miss Davis, the York-Hi's capable sponsor, is justly proud of the students who helped to bring this long-sought-for goal a reality.

Approximately eighty-three York students publish the York-Hi every other Wednesday under the able leadership of Mark Stephenson, its editor. They have won for the paper an International rating in the Quill and Scroll, for outstanding journalistic work, again this year. It is a member of the Illinois State High School Press Association, the Scholastic Press Guild of Chicago, and Quill and Scroll.

York-Hi Staff Works Diligently in Preparing Paper

There also have been changes and improvements in the production of the York-Hi. The York-Hi's new publisher in Lombard has done a fine job in getting the printing done on time. The Art Staff has been busier this year because they have made most of the ads themselves on linoleum blocks, which add to the variety of the paper.

The York-Hi presents to you, the students of York, the latest news about the people you know and the school that you attend. It tells you the latest gossip that you can talk over in the Youth Center, which, incidentally, has been supported by the York-Hi ever since it was just a dream. It keeps you up-to-date in York's sporting world. The letters to the editor column gives the students an opportunity to voice their opinions about the school policies. On the whole, it tries to bring to the reader an interesting picture of the life and activities at York.

Tschaikowsky's "1812" Thrills Listeners at Concert

This year York's Concert Band has received much recognition, under the able and inspiring directorship of Mr. Theodore Chopp. The Concert Band, having as its component parts a marching band, basketball band, and football band, is a regular course of study at York. In addition to supplying music for many of the assemblies, the band presented three well-prepared, well-received concerts.

At the fall concert, held November 30, the band played the second movement of Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony" and one of Strauss' waltzes, the "Voices of Spring." During the playing of the latter number, a movie depicting some of the beautiful sections of the United States was effectively shown on a large screen placed in front of the band. Another highlight of this concert was Robert Elworthy's piano solo of Chopin's "Polonaise in A Flat."

On April 12 music lovers were thrilled with the Spring Concert. With this presentation the members of the band climaxed months of diligent practice. An outstanding feature of this concert was the addition of a harp and a Hammond organ to the band. The program was comprised mainly of classical numbers highlighted by Tschaikowsky's "1812" Overture and the "Finale" from his Fifth Symphony. In a semi-classical mood was "Little Rhapsody In Blue," a delightful paraphrase on Gershwin's masterpiece.

We are proud of our Concert Band, and thank the members and Mr. Chopp for their service and the pleasure they have given to many.

Mr. Chopp Hopes for Expansion in Orchestra Next Year

Standing: Mr. Chopp, director; Joan Jones, bass; Jerry Ebling, Maxine Lane, and Ted Carns, drums; Pianists: Rosemary Schmitt and Elizabeth Caldwell; Front Row: Marcia Metcalf and Barbara Tozier, first violins; Craig McCreary and Gisela Richter, oboes; Second Row: Cecelia Biernath and Allen Schlandt, second violins; Mary K. Brice, 'cello; Floyd Peterson, Carol Reinke, and Marian White, clarinets; Helen Paschke and Carol Avery, third violins; Third Row: Lillian Johnson, Mary Simer, and Audrey Graunke, flutes; Bill Webster, Wayne Shirky, Dick Ballance, and Bob Elworthy, French horns; Louis Finis, bassoon; William Wolf, third violin; Back Row: Bob Irish, Bob Winne, and Gary Wallace, trombones; Ronald Alberts, Howard Currant, Richard Baldwin, and Dana Chase, cornets.

York's orchestra, now under the leadership of Mr. Chopp, has been advancing rapidly in the past two years, since it has had a regular first-period class in which to practice.

The orchestra members may earn awards, just as the members of the other musical organizations do. Major and minor letters are awarded on the basis of the number of performances participated in and the general interest shown, while four-year pins are awarded to those who have served in the orchestra for four years.

The orchestra, despite its limited number, has done a great deal this year entertaining the audiences between the acts of the different class plays and at Drama Night. This year the orchestra also played at the York Parent-Teachers Association open house and at a meeting of the Women's Club. Next year Mr. Chopp plans to enlarge and develop the orchestra so that it can give even more musical pleasure to Yorkites.

Fall Concert Presented in Place of Annual Operetta

This year the Senior Choir, changing the age-old tradition of giving an annual operetta, gave a fall concert besides its regular spring concert. At the fall concert, under the able and inspiring direction of C. Eldon Harris, the choir sang, among other things, "Cindy," an American folk song arranged by Robert Wilson, and Friml's "One Alone," with solos by Joanne Crane and Ward Ohrman. The choir also sang the favorite, "I'll See You Again," by Noel Coward. Wayne Staley sang two incidental solos: "When Love is Kind," which was arranged by Trinkaus, and "Yours Is My Heart Alone," by Jerome Kern.

All the chorus groups provide many hours of musical relaxation for themselves and the rest of the school by giving many assemblies and concerts.

Choruses Exhibit Vocal Talent in Annual Programs

York's vocal department was started in the school year of 1938-1939. Since its beginning the Sophomore Chorus has been added; another change was that of the girls' Sextet to the Nonet in 1943.

The choir also has several ensembles such as the girls' Nonet and two boys' quartets which sing many times throughout the year. This year, the Nonet is made up of Susan Graybill, Marion Hoffman, Joanne Crane, Mimi Pieri, Ellen Freitag, Leona Mae Jacker, Shirley Bach, Joan Darby, and Jeanne Davis. Bob Nordstrom, Kenneth Pinnow, Ward Ohrman, and Wayne Staley make up one of the quartets, and Lowell MaCauley, Ronald Carlson, Bob Rucker, and Charles Tilly make up the other.

Music Club Is for All Musically Inclined Students

That good old harmony that may be heard coming down the hall the second Monday every month can only be blamed on one group of tonsils — the members of the Music Club. It is a big organization that anyone who has an interest in music can get into. This does not mean that the student must have musical talent, however.

The Music Club was formed under Mr. Harris' sponsorship in 1939 and has been making rapid progress. Now it is one of the leading clubs having large enrollments. It is this club which sponsors the different activities of the Music Department.

This year, in the early part of October, the club gave a school-wide dance in the gym, which the organization is making a tradition. This year it was called the "Autumn Interlude," and to set off the theme, the gym was bedecked in autumn leaves and large musical notes.

The club has attended musical comedies downtown in Chicago. They particularly enjoyed Mike Todd's smash hit, "Up in Central Park."

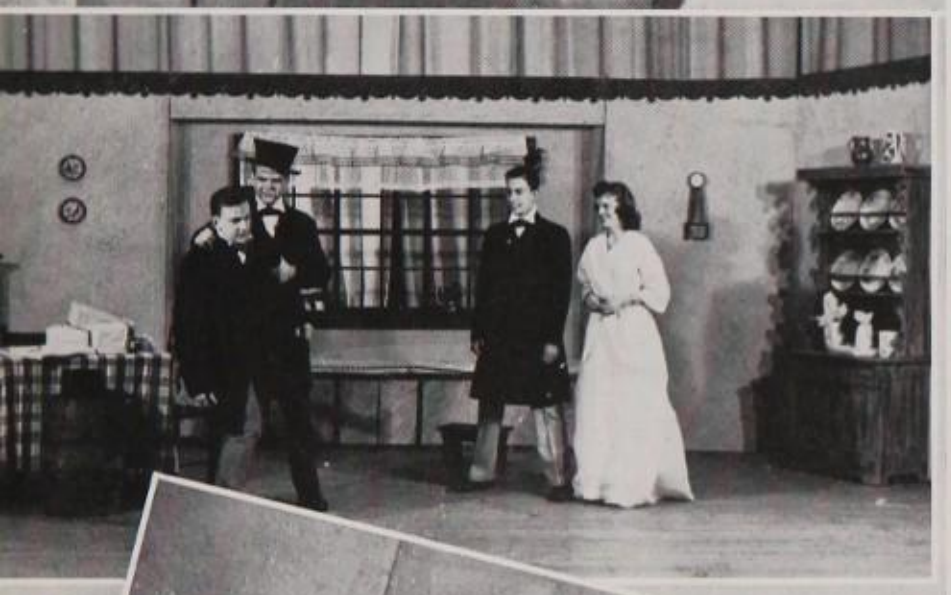
The functions of the Music Club are numerous: they sell candy at games and give an annual dance.

It meets once a month, and at this time, some kind of musical program is presented. Pins are awarded on the merit system and a special pin is awarded to the student who is considered the most outstanding in the work of the club. Any Music Clubber is able to get this award and the judge is Mr. Harris.

Music is a favorite with many people and the club is doing its job to cultivate the minds of the York students to learn to like all types of music — not just one special kind. Some entered the club with a one-sided mind for music, but they soon found their mistake. It takes all kinds of music to make a world.

"Music is nothing else but wild sounds civilized into time and tune," but sometimes you seem to wonder who was in charge of civilizing that last one you heard . . . it musta' got by the censor.

Annual Visit to Chicago Play Highlights Season



Although the final curtain was down on a successful Drama Night, you could still hear aspiring dramatists chanting "irrelevant and immaterial" from Stephen Vincent Benet's The Devil and Daniel Webster. This was a story of Jabez Stone, who sold his soul to the Devil. The Thespians, under the direction of Miss Doris E. White, also presented the nativity play from the cycle of York, England, arranged and adapted by John F. Baird. The third Drama Night play was a satirical comedy, The New School of Wives, by John Kirkpatrick, the story of Ellen Dunlap, a girl who "couldn't find herself."

In October everyone enjoyed the trip to see two radio programs, "Freedom of Opportunity," which was the dramatized life of William Kellopp, and "Those Websters," the story of an average American family and their humorous problems. The new apprentice Thespians were welcomed into the group at the November pot luck supper. Everyone had a fine time dancing and playing such games as "Meet the Fly Family." December was devoted to the preparation of Drama Night, which was held on December 18. Most Thespians who didn't have roles in the plays served on production staffs.

Thespians are still talking about the wonderful performance of Ethel Barrymore in The Joyous Season, a play by Philip Barry, which they saw on February 11. The play dramatized the story of a Boston family who had lost its purpose in life and regained it through the influence of Mother Superior Christina, one of the members of the family who came back for a visit.

Thespian-Produced Drama Night Won Acclaim of All

In March the apprentices entertained the group with a series of humorous skits and monologues. Among them was The Romance of Piff Puff Land. April's program consisted of a group of one-act plays which were presented by the second-year speech class.

The Thespians wound up the year with the initiation of the apprentices in May. The initiates were first required to give monologues and pantomimes. Then the fun began with the initiation, which struck horror into the very hearts of the apprentices. After the ceremony the initiates were at long last full-fledged Thespians who could in their turn look haughtily down upon mere apprentices.

You can readily recognize a Thespian by his gold pin and by his participation in the dramatic events at York. It is truly one of the most famous and best appreciated organizations at York.

One of the prominent clubs at York is the Latin Club, which has many outstanding affairs. The activity in December was devoted to the annual Roman Banquet. The girls' gym was decorated with statues, plants, and a fountain in the center. As each student arrived wearing the garb of an ancient Roman, he was served by humble slaves (the freshman Latin students). Between courses all enjoyed the performance of the Vestal Virgins re-enacting the candlelight ceremony, an old religious tradition.

Latin Students Engage in Roman Sports at Ludi Romani

To promote and further the interest of the language and customs of the ancient Romans is the purpose of the Latin Club. All students in Latin 10, 11, or 12 are eligible for membership. The average membership is about sixty-five. Freshmen who have completed an "A" average in their first semester are granted initiation into the Latin Club in February and are admitted to membership upon approval of the students. Pins are presented to seniors who have been active members at least three years. Miss Ashton and Miss Howe are the co-sponsors.

Spanish Club Encourages Good-Neighbor Policy

The Spanish Club, oldest organization at York, is sponsored by Miss Miriam Bonifield. For a quarter of a century it has continued to sustain and encourage friendly relations between America and her neighbors to the south. Not only does the club correspond with fellow students in South America, but it tries to give Yorkites an insight into the Latin-American way.

The club meets the second Wednesday of each month. Students volunteer for the committees which arrange and put on the programs. The club observes all Spanish holidays, such as Columbus Day. On that particular occasion, a talk was given by one of the members telling the story of Columbus and his famous voyage across the ocean. Like all the skits, it was written by the actors themselves.

At other meetings, movies were shown telling interesting happenings and doings of Latin Americans. One film was on sky dancers who dangled from a pole two hundred feet in the air. Another was on wooden faces. Several students gave exotic examples of Spanish dances and songs at the meetings.

Any sophomore, junior, or senior is eligible to join if he has taken or is taking Spanish. Freshmen can join the second semester if they have had an "A" average in Spanish.

A pin is awarded to students who have earned twenty-two points. The highest award, a guard, is given for eighteen additional points. Points are usually gained by taking part in the various programs, helping to plan future meetings, donating refreshments for the parties, and doing the thankless task of cleaning up after meetings.

LOWER PHOTO: Bob Deufel, President; Reagan Bowman, Vice-President; Jane Teschner, Secretary, and Marcella Chant, Treasurer.

The Christmas Party Is Gala Event for Spanish Club

The gala Christmas party is the festive occasion of the year. After a short meeting the fun begins. First, various songs, such as "Silent Night" and "The First Noel", are sung in Spanish. Then there is usually a talk or skit telling how Christmas is celebrated in Spain and South America.

The piñata comes next. As all Spanish students know, this is a gaily decorated paper shopping bag filled with candy. One person is blindfolded and turned around several times. Then he is given a wooden stick with which to break the bag. Usually after he tries three or four times, the bag is broken. The bag turns out to be empty, however, and the dismayed pupil has to do it all over again.

When the bag is finally broken everybody dives to the floor and tries to grab as much candy as possible. After the confusion has died down, additional cookies, cake and candy, donated by various members, are served.

German Band Makes Merry at Annual Kaffee Klatsch

When the German-speaking Yorkites all have that mischievous grin and you can't seem to find anything wrong, one doesn't have to look twice to see that the annual Kaffee Klatsch is coming. This is that gay day for all those squirmin' Germans who wish to have a ton of fun.

The refreshments for the Kaffee Klatsch are served by waiters in typical dress of Germany. Music is furnished by an old-fashioned German band, which is made up of members of the club. Any resemblance to waltzes and polkas is not the result of practice on their part.

In addition to this gay event, the German Club has monthly meetings and annually holds a spring picnic—everyone has a feast—including the insects.

Just in case you're not familiar with the language of the "Fatherland," the headline merely identifies Miss Evjen as the leader of the German Club. With Paul Schmitz as president the club will undoubtedly help the world reconvert and acquire a better liking for those fine German arts.

Since the founding of this club, both the subject and the club have been favored among students. The students want to learn some language that they might use some day and German is just that. Who knows? Maybe you'll be the next German ambassador!

"Machen Sie die Tur zu," ("Shut the door") is a common phrase that may be heard coming from room 118, but as a whole, the German is used in conversation instead of harsh commands.

During the school year of 1938-1939 an organization was formed at York that has grown to be one of York's most popular and active societies. The York Historical Society, under the sponsorship of Mr. Maclear and Mr. Zacharais, was organized to further the interest of the members in the history and the wonders of our United States over and above the work offered in the regular classes. The active members have benefited immeasurably by the educational program offered by the society.

Aside from regular meetings the Historical Society presented three assemblies and took numerous field trips to places of educational interest in Chicago. In November, the society presented an Armistice Day-Education Week assembly program; again in February it presented a Lincoln-Washington assembly and in May it presented a Memorial Day program. Members of the society participated in these programs.

The society's field trips to such places as the Chicago Museum of Natural History, the Museum of Science and Industry, the Adler Planetarium, the Chicago Historical Society, the Cook County Jail and Criminal Court, have proved not only interesting, but also very educational to the members.

Any senior who has completed one year of American History is eligible and the juniors are eligible at the end of the first semester of American History. Pins are awarded to the seniors who fulfill certain qualifications during their first two semesters of membership.

Math Club Celebrates First Anniversary This Year

In the early spring of 1945 a new club was organized at York, through the interest of a group sponsored by Miss Heinemann. The Math Club, although it is York's youngest club, boasts of a charter membership of about thirty members.

The prime purpose of the Math Club is to create an interest in mathematics outside of the classroom. Many of the important phases of mathematics are barely touched upon, if at all, in the math courses offered at York. The Math Club selects the most interesting of these phases and presents them to the members during the regular meetings. Some of the interesting topics dealt with by the club are: the use of the slide rule, a history of mathematics, an explanation of the solving for roots of numbers, and aerial navigation.

A "Problem of the Month" Is Featured at Its Meetings

In addition to the courses presented at the meetings the Math Club has a "Problem of the Month," a new one of which is presented each month for the members to solve. A prize is awarded at the end of the year to the member who has the most correct solutions for the various problems through the year recorded with the club's secretary.

Aside from the regular meetings, the Math Club gave a hayrack party early last spring that was enjoyed by all who attended. A picnic in the late spring, which the club plans to have as an annual affair, was equally a success.

To be eligible to join the Math Club one must have had one semester of plane geometry and an A or B average in all three semesters of math taken at York. Any upperclassman with a major in mathematics is also eligible to join. The club is supported by dues and by selling refreshments at football and basketball games.

Goals of York's Red Cross Club Are Health and Service

The Red Cross chapter at York, one of a nation-wide organization, has as its goals health and service. Delegates from York's chapter attended meetings in Chicago and heard news about their contributions to the war effort from girls of the Greek underground and officials of the European Theatre of Operations. The delegates reported on these interesting talks to the remainder of the gratified group.

The main activity of the Red Cross Club is in the three production groups —shop, art, and sewing. The shop group makes toys; the art group, menus, tray mats, and stationary kits; and the sewing group made Christmas tree decorations which were used in hospitals in this area. The Red Cross Club gives an assembly for the enrollment drive in the early spring, featuring a skit by the members depicting the activities of the Junior Red Cross and a speaker from the National Red Cross who gave inspiration to the loyal club members to redouble their efforts.

LOWER RIGHT: Officers of the Home Economics Club: Margit Anderson, President; Barbara Schoneman, Treasurer; Shirley Swanson, Vice-President; and Jeanne Robbins, Secretary.

The Home Economics Club, which is open to all girls who are taking home economics or who have had a year of home economics, has Miss Whitehouse as its sponsor. The purpose of the club is to help the girls develop skills in sewing and the culinary arts.

The meetings are of a social nature, with refreshments prepared by members who serve at each meeting. In the fall the club held a "get-acquainted" picnic at Wilder Park. The club wishes to make its tea, which was given for the members' mothers and the faculty, an annual affair. The high point on the agenda of the Home Economics Club is the style show given in the spring. At this time each girl models the dress, suit, or formal she has made during the year. With this appropriate event, the club brings its busy year to a climax.

Pep Club's Football Dance Honors Gridiron Heroes

Perhaps you have wondered to what York owes its snappy school spirit. Well, the Pep Club is largely responsible. This energetic group, spurred on by our cheerleaders, has as its purpose the promotion of school spirit, and as anyone will tell you, they do a swell job!

To honor York's pigskin heroes at the close of a triumphant season the annual Football Dance, sponsored by the Pep Club, was held on November 9. Green and white streamers adorned the ceiling of the boys' gym, and pictures and pennants praising our players created a colorful atmosphere. A record crowd turned out to enjoy themselves at one of the most spectacular dances of the year.

Under the supervision of Miss Hughes the Pep Club and cheerleading squad have incited York with enthusiasm and school spirit. The shouts of the crowds attending the pep assemblies conducted by this group resound through the school in new cheers and old, not to mention applause for the peppy talks given by the cheerleaders and team members. At the games, green and white figures flash across football field and basketball floor, energetically leading in ear-splitting cheers.

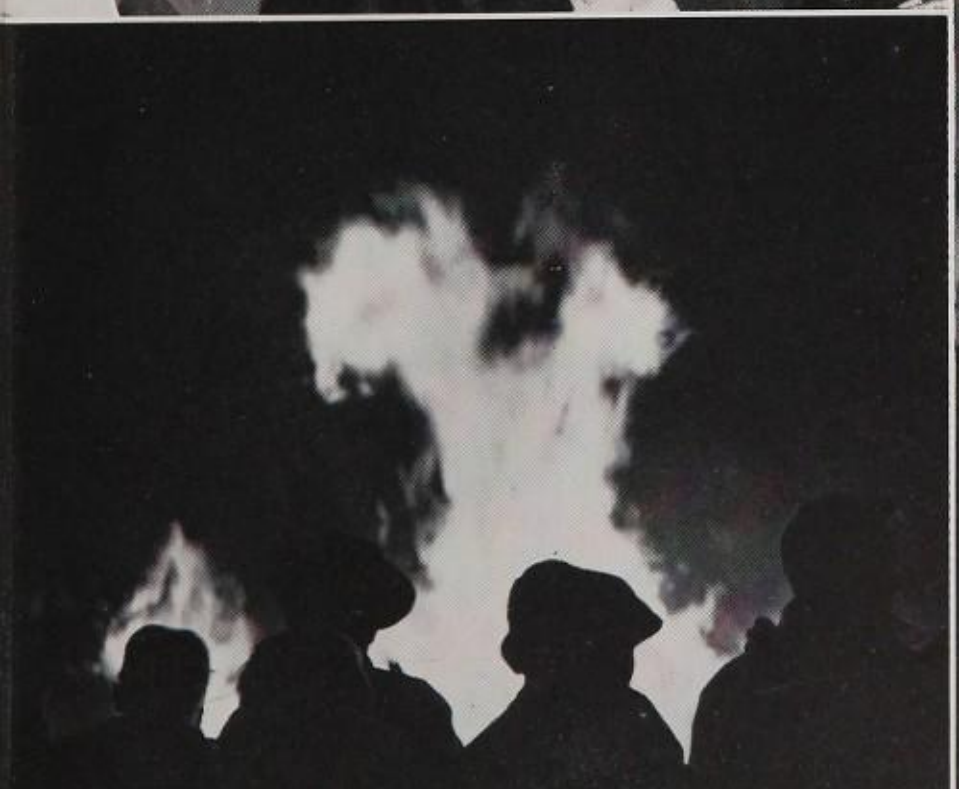
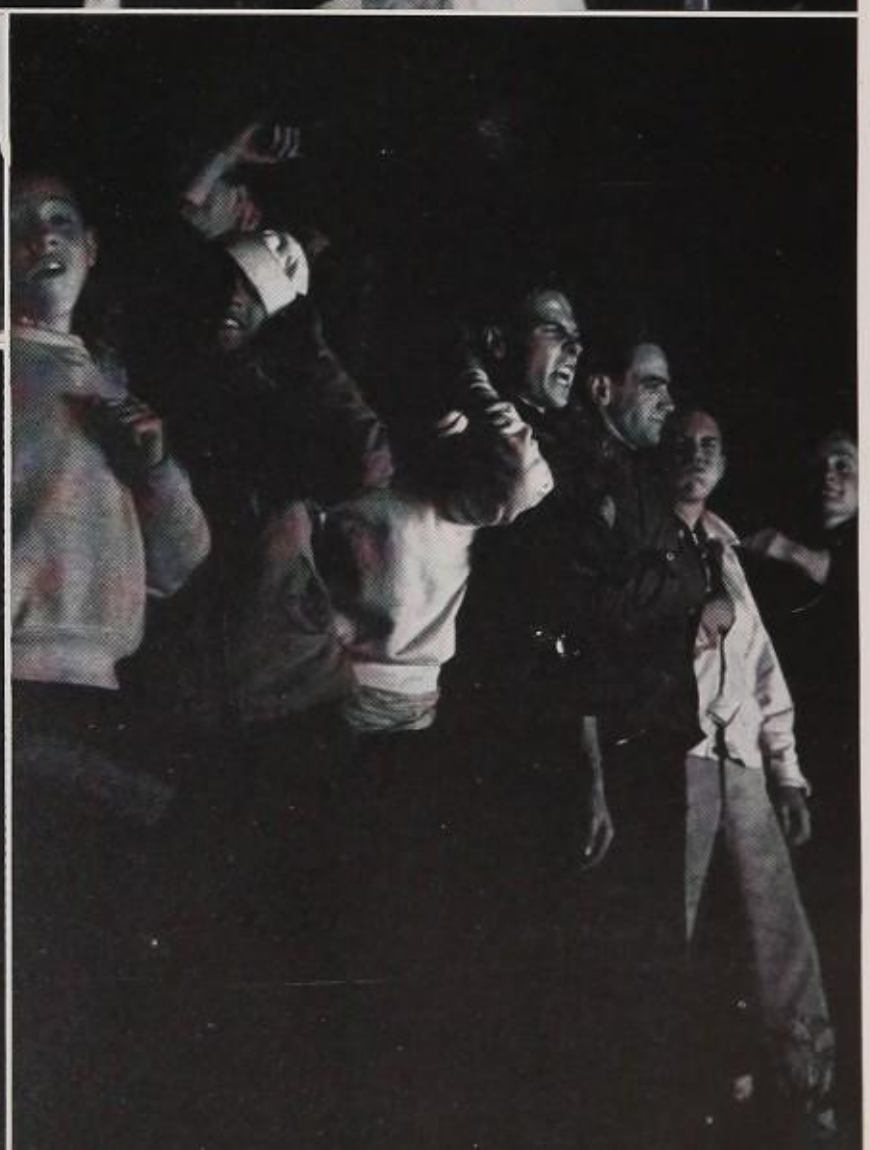
Annual Bonfire Proves a Night of Fun for Everyone

Oh, it's not all cheering and yelling. Every year the club awards pins to its outstanding upperclass members who have done special work on committees, attended meetings, and held offices. The pin is a gold "Y" with the word "Pep" printed across it in green. The earning of a pin is the goal of every member and, as they will tell you, it's worth working for. Another one of the Pep Club's hits of the year was its Christmas party, where the members exchanged gifts, sang carols, and had a wonderful time!

The annual bonfire before the Glenbard game was bigger and hotter than ever before, and this, too, can be credited to our enthusiastic Pep Club. A huge crowd, cheering, shouting, and singing, milled about the blaze and then joined in the snake dance and attended the social which followed.

There is a big turnout for Pep Club every year, and this year there was an extra large one. Anyone who has lots of pep and likes to cheer and yell for good old York may become a member.





Honor Awards for Merit Presented at Mothers' Tea

Have you been feeling depressed lately? Do you lack a purpose in life? Try the G.A.A. for rest and recreation! Say good-bye to the blues. Many girls have tried this excellent advice; as proof of this, the membership of the G.A.A. has greatly increased.

York's G.A.A. is a member of the state organization which sponsors three summer camps. Every summer it sends three or four York girls to the camp at Conference Point on Lake Geneva. The main office of this organization, which is in Chicago, frequently sends out up-to-date information on rules, points, and awards.

By participating in different sports and activities, attending meetings regularly, and keeping health charts, girls earn points toward pins and awards. When a girl has earned fifty points, she is entitled to buy a G.A.A. pin. To win a local award a girl must earn six hundred points in her freshman year and one thousand two hundred points in her sophomore year. The State League Award is given to juniors who have earned one thousand six hundred points; the State League Emblem is given to seniors who have earned two thousand points.

G.A.A. Starts Color Day at York

The girls in G.A.A., under the able supervision of their new sponsors, Miss Skinner and Miss Homrighaus, participate in many sports and games in after-school recreation. In the fall you will see them outdoors playing soccer and field hockey. Such indoor sports as volley ball, ring tennis, basketball, and tumbling comprise their winter-time agenda. Spring fever never catches up with G.A.A. girls, for they are outside, energetically tossing baseballs, swinging bats, and drawing bows. You certainly can't say that the G.A.A. lets any grass grow under its feet!

Besides these afternoon recreation periods the G.A.A. holds monthly meetings. These meetings are planned by the G.A.A. board, consisting of the officers of the organization, which makes decisions concerning entertainment, refreshments, and any new problems.

All the girls remember that brisk fall day when they took their annual fall hike. At the end of the trip, the foot-sore and ravenously hungry girls eagerly ate their picnic supper around a blazing campfire.

In the winter the girls didn't hibernate but were busy as bees with their preparations for Christmas. They decorated, with twinkling lights, gay ornaments and shimmering tinsel, the big Christmas tree which glistened in front of the auditorium. To celebrate the holidays they had a delicious pot luck supper. All of the new members remember this occasion well, because here they were initiated in grand style.

On February 8, Yorkites were all decked out in green and white streamers. The G.A.A. had done it again!!! Something new and novel was created, Color Day. York was a riot of green and white.

In the spring, to top off a year of good fun and swell times, the girls entertained their mothers at a tea. It was a huge success and a happy day for all, because it was at this time that the girls received their coveted awards.

Sports' Heroes Become "Y's Guys" in Lettermen's Club

The York Lettermen's Club, formed last year, is more commonly known as the Y's Guys. The club was formed to promote sportsmanship and is limited to boys who have won a major or minor letter in any sport as well as managers who have received letters.

In the second meeting of the year officers were elected. They are as follows: Bob Bogott, President; Tom Herne, Vice-President; Don Davidson, Treasurer; Lloyd Van Schoyck, Secretary; and Paul Sample, who made up the fifth committee man. Paul, last year's Vice-President, was the boy who promoted and started the Lettermen's Club at York. Also at this meeting Mr. Silcott, the new football coach, gave a talk on the ideal behind the club—sportsmanship. At later meetings in the year, motion pictures of some of York's football games were shown. In the future the club hopes to show some movies of college games.

Late in October the club held a hayride in hopes of obtaining enough money to pay for the pins which were given out to members of the club who have done things to aid the school.

The organization also assisted the Pep Club with the annual bonfire by "guarding" the wood pile until the blaze was touched off, thus insuring Yorkites that the experience of two years ago would not be repeated.

"Military Conscription"—Debate Club Subject of Year

The Debate Club functioned this year under a new sponsor, Mr. Royal J. Schmidt, who replaced Mr. Whiteside. Even though the war ended, the West Suburban Conference decided not to resume inter-school debates. It is expected, however, that they will be inaugurated with the start of school next fall.

In the absence of inter-school activity, the Debate Club continued its successful policy of sponsoring round-table discussions. This year's topic was "Postwar Military Conscription." Arguments were presented from the viewpoints of a militarist, psychologist, historian, politician, and educator. Besides giving their own points, the members discuss the various bills that have been presented in Congress. The club started this year by giving discussions in classes and school assemblies.

Pins are awarded members in good standing who have earned forty points. These are gained by participating in the round-table discussions and debates. Points also are given for public speaking and oral reports.

Charles Tilly, the club's president, entered the American Legion Oratorical Contest. He won the district competition, which was held in Elmhurst, going on to win the sectional contest at De Kalb. He finally went downstate and took fourth place in the state meet, thus winning a fine honor for York.

P.T.A.'s Mardi Gras Cement Mixer—Putti, Putti

"Here Comes the Showboat", a terrific production put on by the Parent-Teachers Association, and so "Captain Andy's Floating Show" was ushered in midst popcorn nylons, and sideshows. Gypsy fortune tellers and numerous concessions made for one of the gayest, most sparkling events put on at York.

Besides the many amusements and the main attraction, the minstrel variety show, a delicious dinner was served by the women members of the P.-T.A. The proceeds of the dance helped pay for the Steinway grand piano that now adorns York's stage.

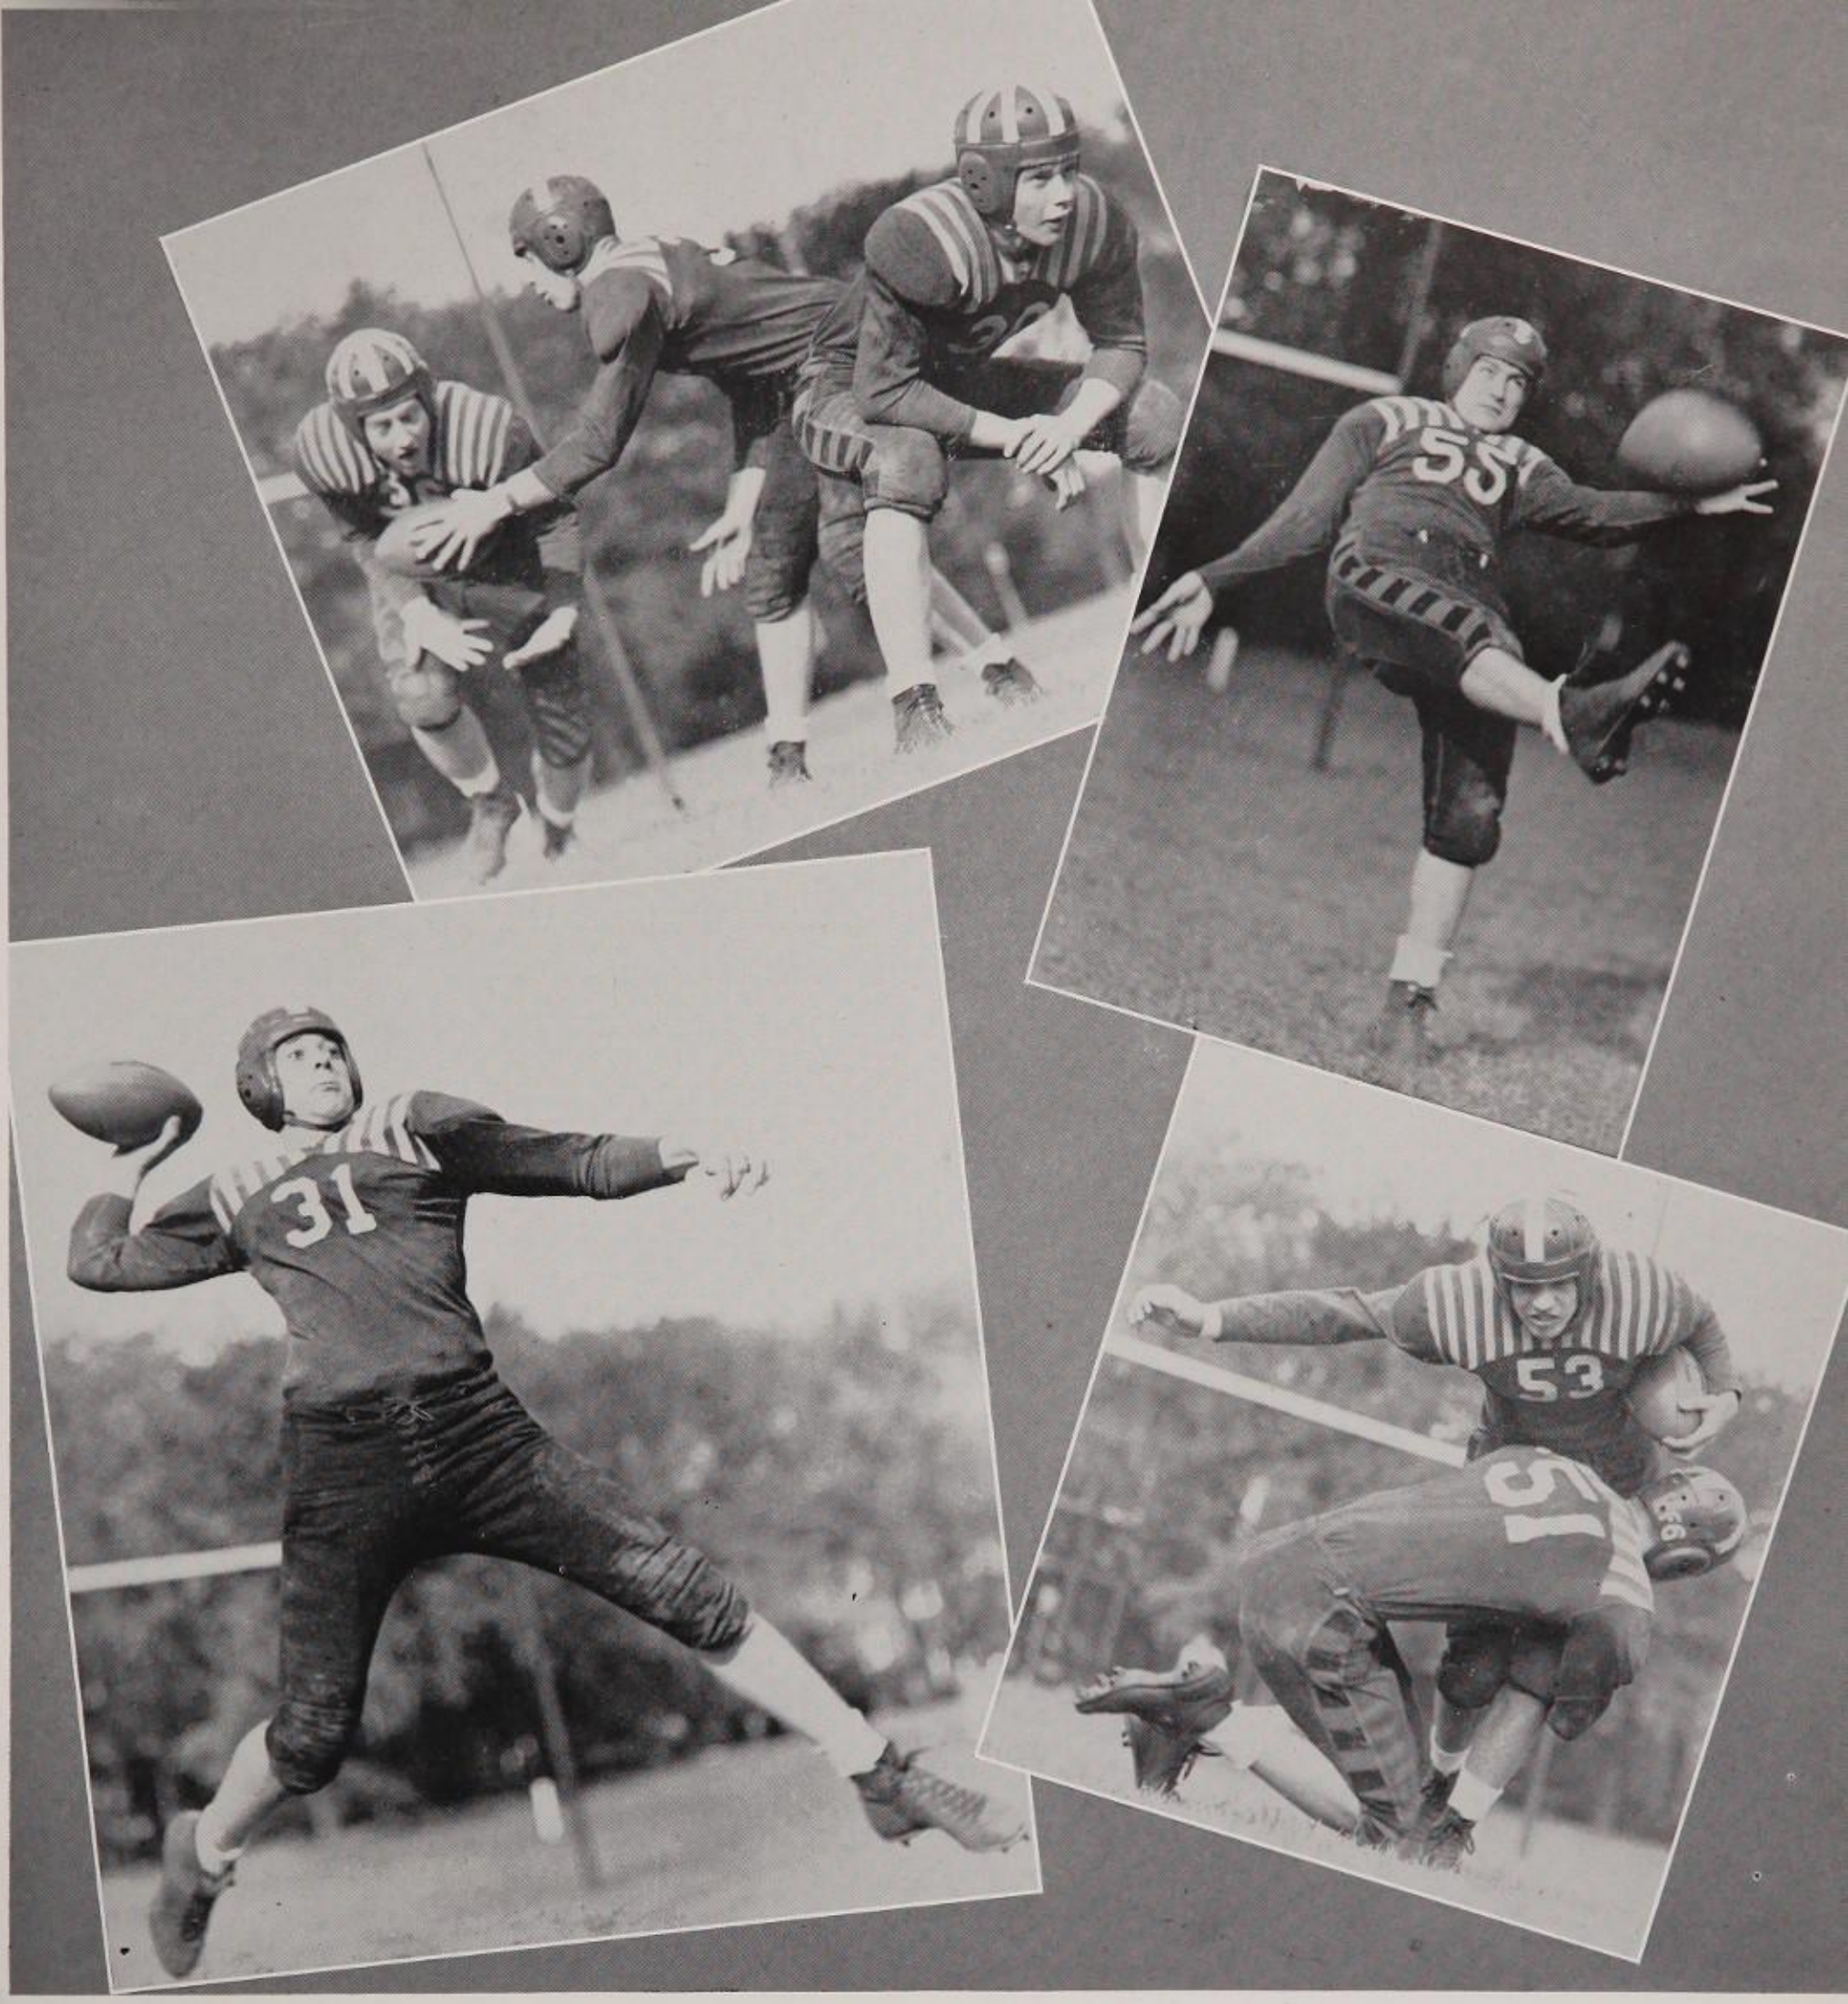
York Heavies Capture Football Crown

Displaying a fighting spirit throughout the season, the Dukes won this year's West Suburban Conference Heavyweight Football Championship. Undefeated and untied in conference play, they lost only one game. Because of Coach Silcott's late arrival and bad breaks, the Dukes dropped their opening encounter, a 13-6 decision to a strong Blue Island eleven. York opened its conference schedule against Maine in a sea of mud. Although it was an uphill fight all the way, the Dukes, never faltering in their drive toward the championship, displayed real team spirit as they came through to score the winning touchdown in the last nine seconds of play. Picking up momentum, the Dukes turned in one of the best performances of the year against LaGrange, the defending champs. Trailing 7-6 at halftime, the Dukes bounced back to drub the Lions 25-7 in the last period.



Coaches Silcott and East Successfully Guide Dukes

Next, the Dukes steamrollered over Hinsdale to the tune of 53-13. Downers Grove succumbed 31-0 the following week as York rolled on. Coach Silcott's lads then pushed aside Riverside's gridders 39-21 in a free-scoring contest.

On the morning of the final game York and Glenbard both remained undefeated. The Dukes set out that Saturday for but one goal, the championship. After a scoreless first half, the Yorkites broke loose to smother their Glenbard rivals. Hank Tiedemann raced over the goal line twice before the Bards could counter, and then in the closing minutes he plunged over again. The extra point was made by Drayton. When the Dukes left the field, they were the new Heavyweight Football Champions of the Conference.

In the Duke backfield were Schultz, quarterback; Tiedemann and Captain Johnston, halfbacks; and Turyna, fullback. The champions' strong line consisted of Drayton and Woeller at ends; Bailey and Mueller at the tackle spots; and Glaysher, Koenig, and Schlacks in the middle. Reserve linemen who saw considerable action were Price, Rohn, R. Patterson, and Perry. Cheney, Hercher, Mack, Herne, and Harbron backed up the first backfield.

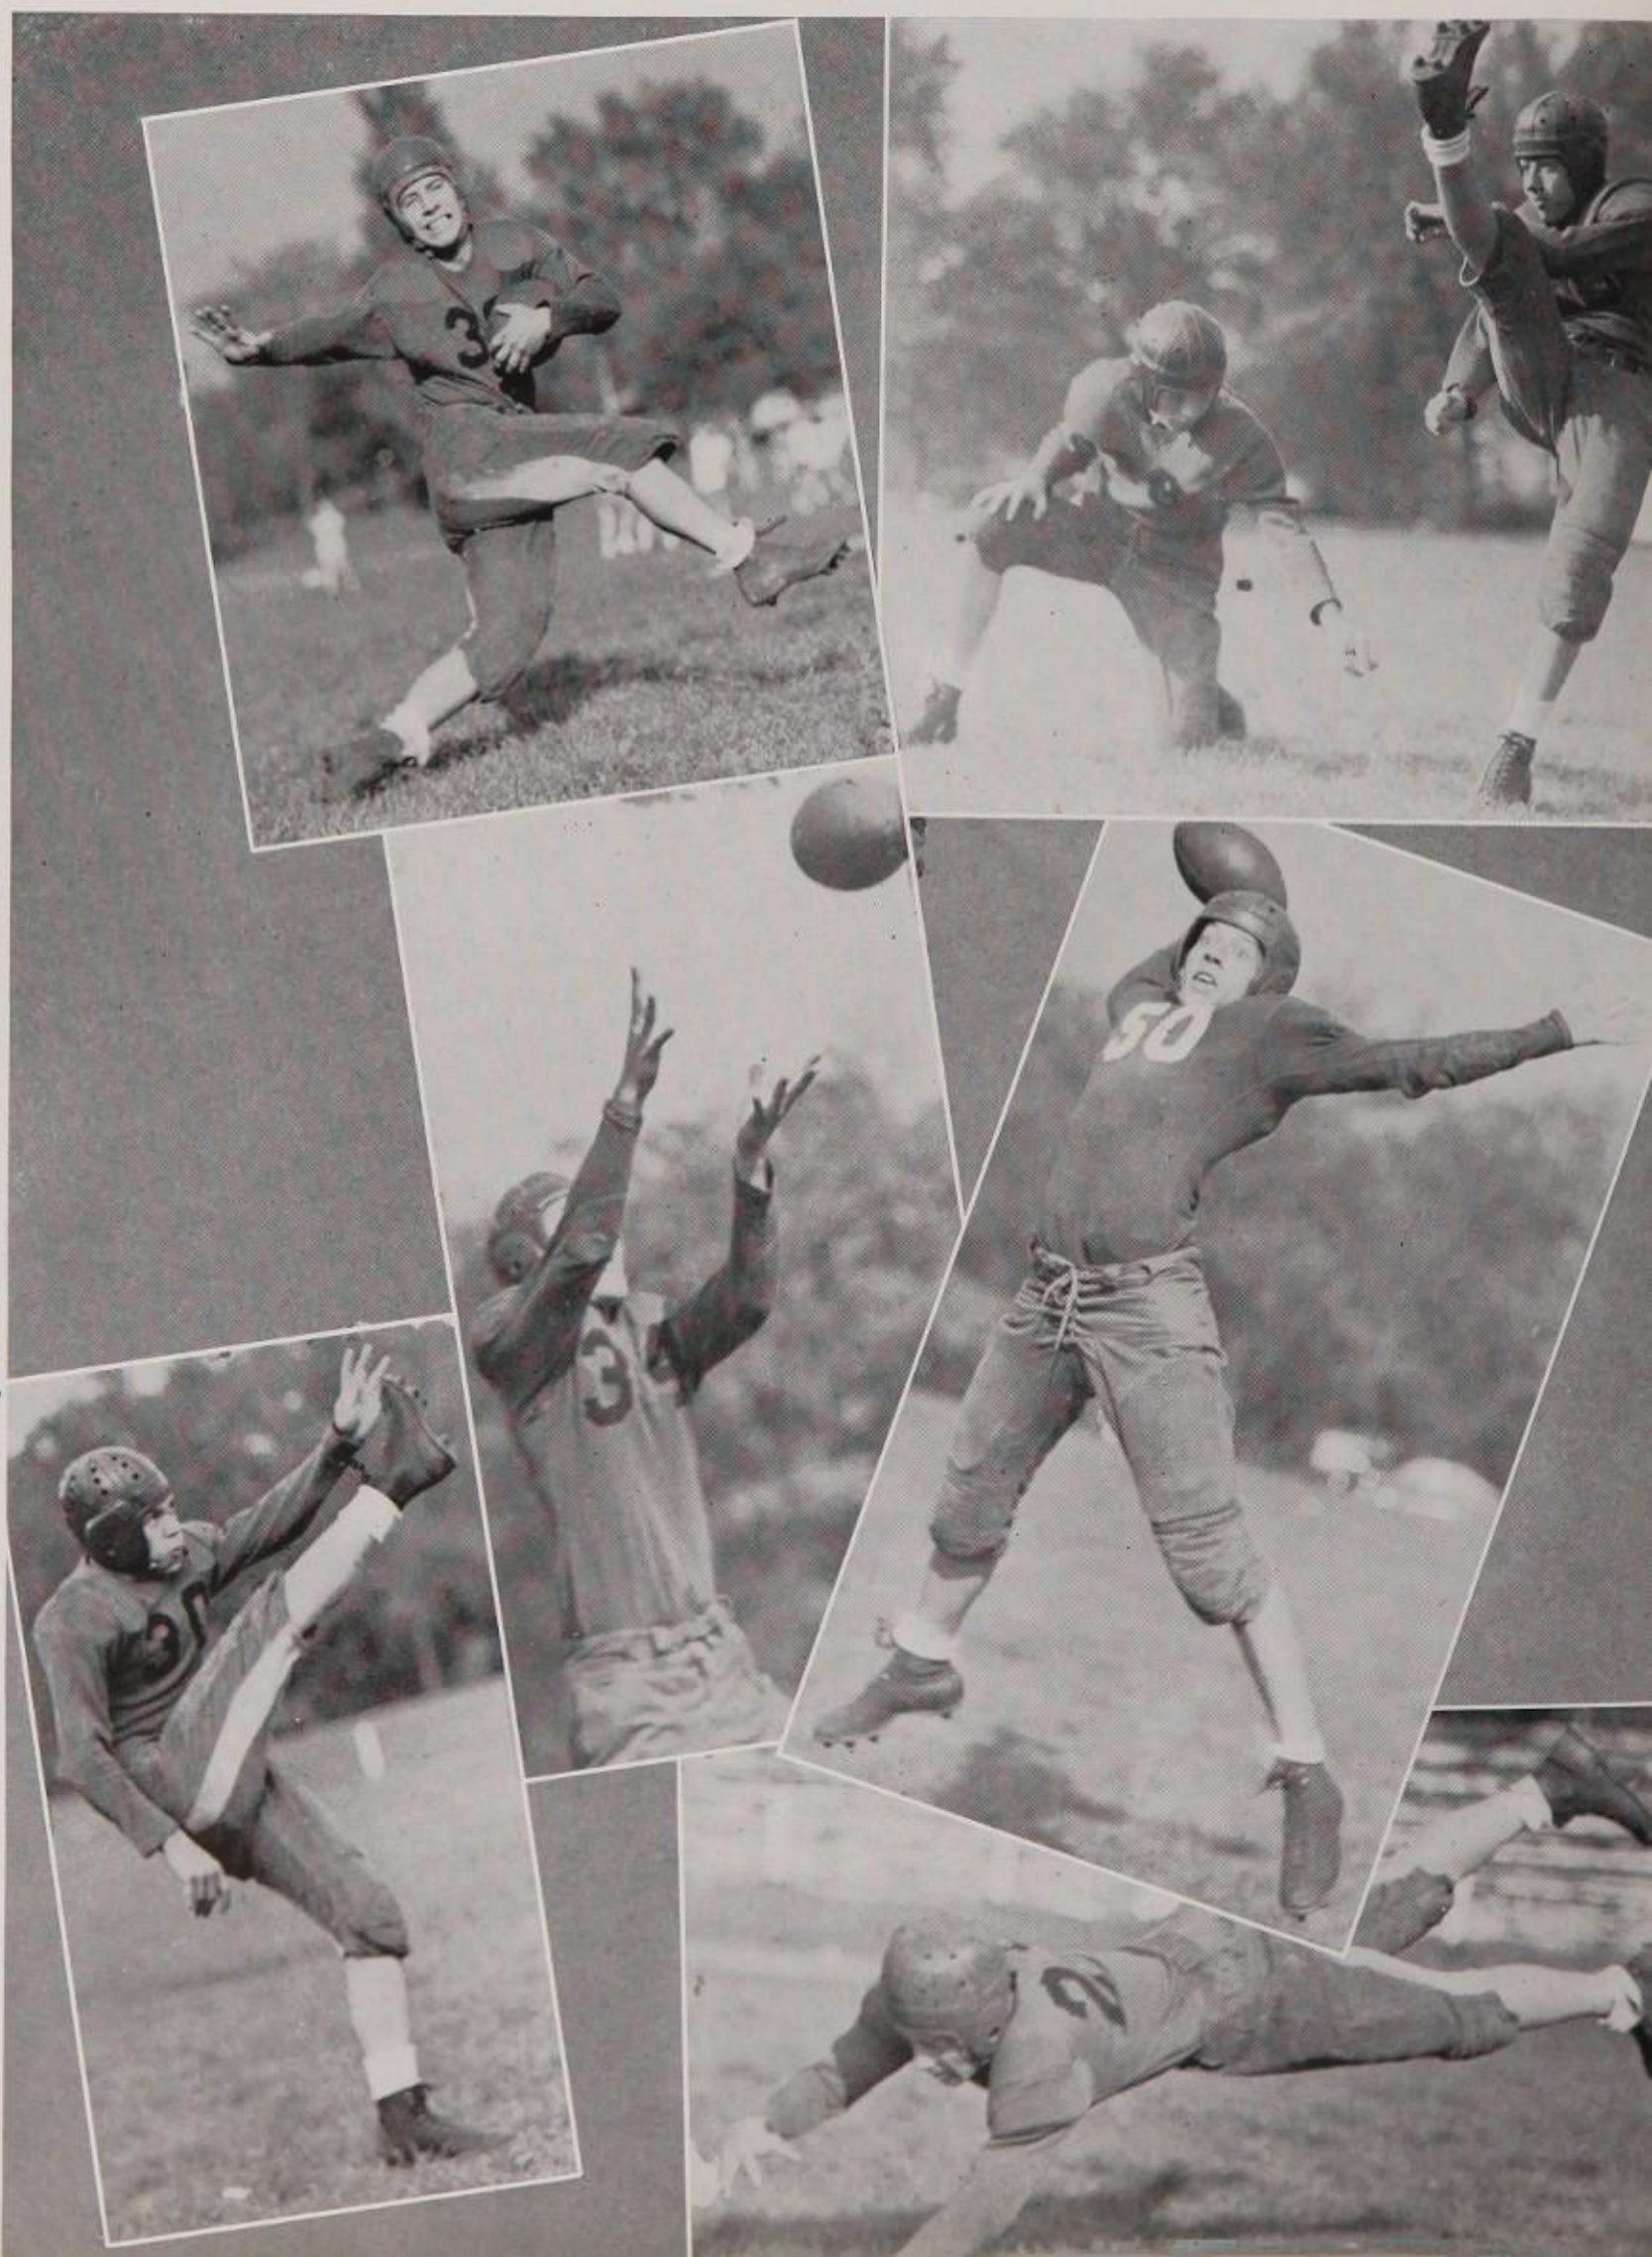
Fallon Takes Over Lightweights

The lightweights of 1946 were the lightest in York's history; they also comprised the smallest team ever to play for York. In conference play the Barons won two, tied one, and lost three games. All three of the lost games were close affairs which York might have won just as well as not. In a pre-season practice game with Blue Island, Coach Fallon's inexperienced boys triumphed for a 12-0 victory.

For the first conference tilt at Maine the starting team consisted of Green, Riner, Dagley, and Jessen in the backfield. Green and Jessen were the only boys having any experience. Roehr and Bendigkeit started at ends, while Patterson and Magerkurth took the tackle positions. "Babe" Lowe and Larsen, guards, and Brown at center filled up the middle of the line.

Barons Have Smallest and Lightest Team in History

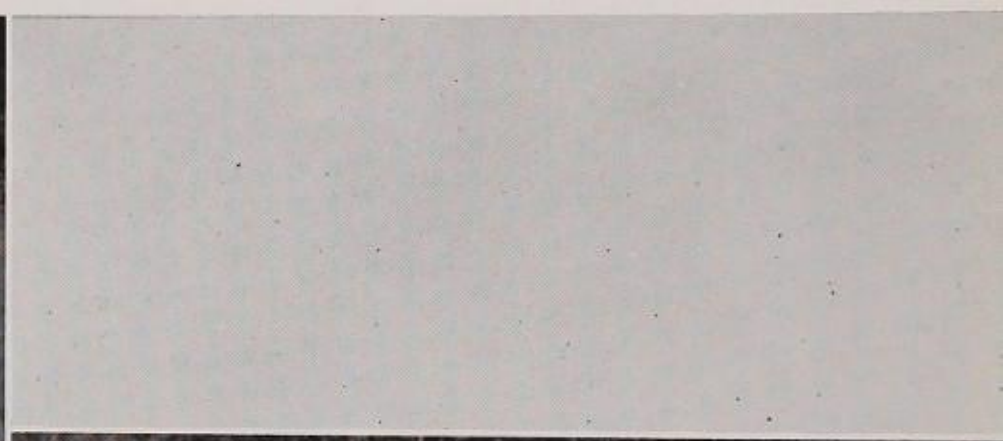
Accompanied by muddy weather and bad breaks, the Barons lost to Maine, 9-0. The next week at La Grange the game was a tie until the last quarter, when Lyons finally tallied after completing a long pass. On York's gridiron the following week, the Barons eased out a one-point victory over Hinsdale — the score, 7-6. The Downers Grove game was a strenuous affair in which York pushed over seven touchdowns, most of them passes to Magerkurth, only to have six of them called back because of penalties. The final score was 6-0 in our favor.

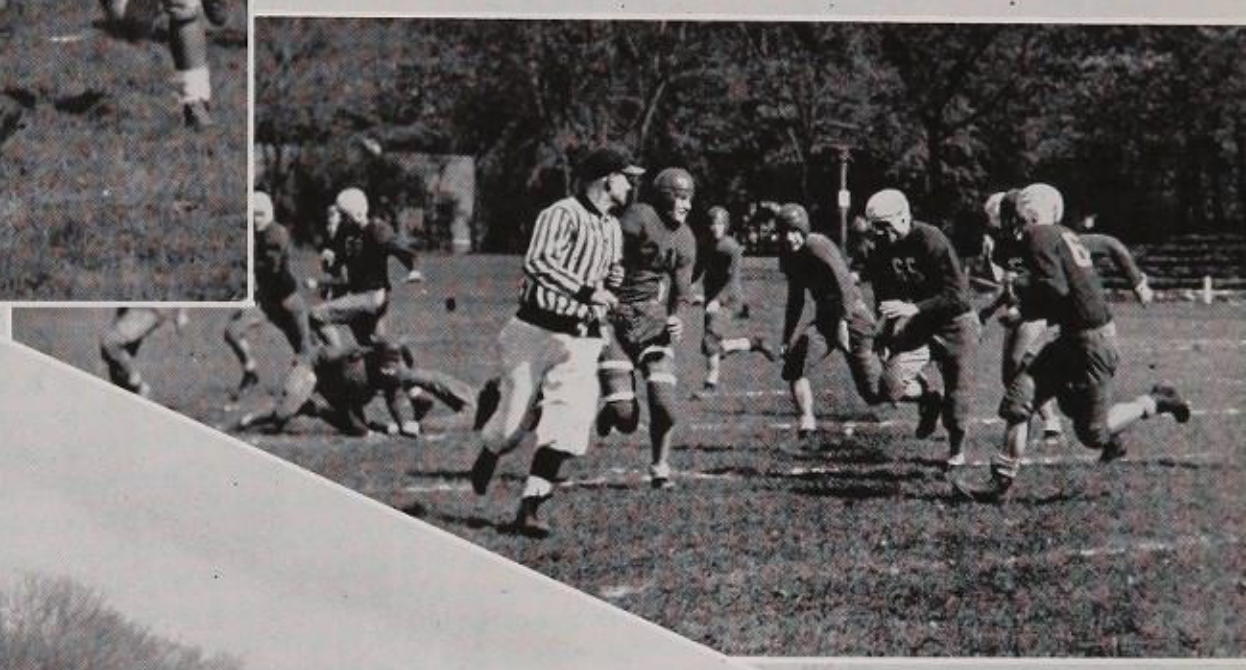


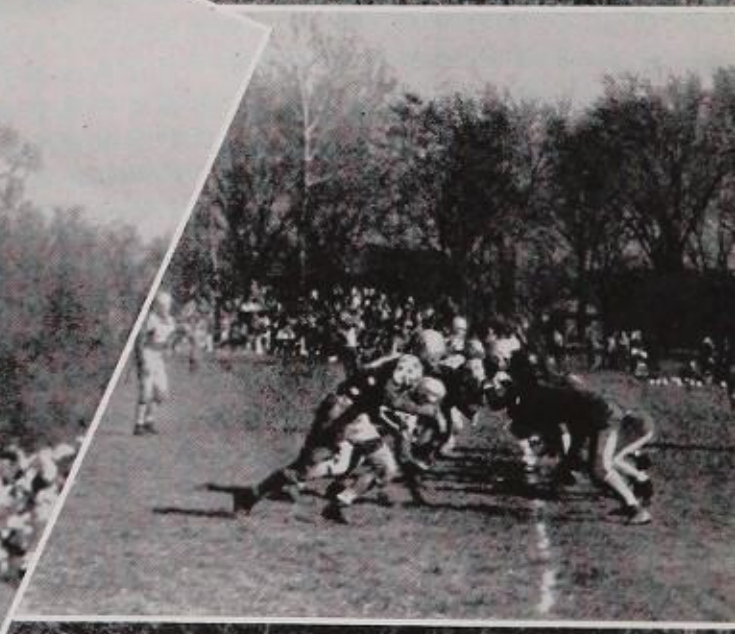
Bad Breaks and Injuries Dog Barons Throughout Season

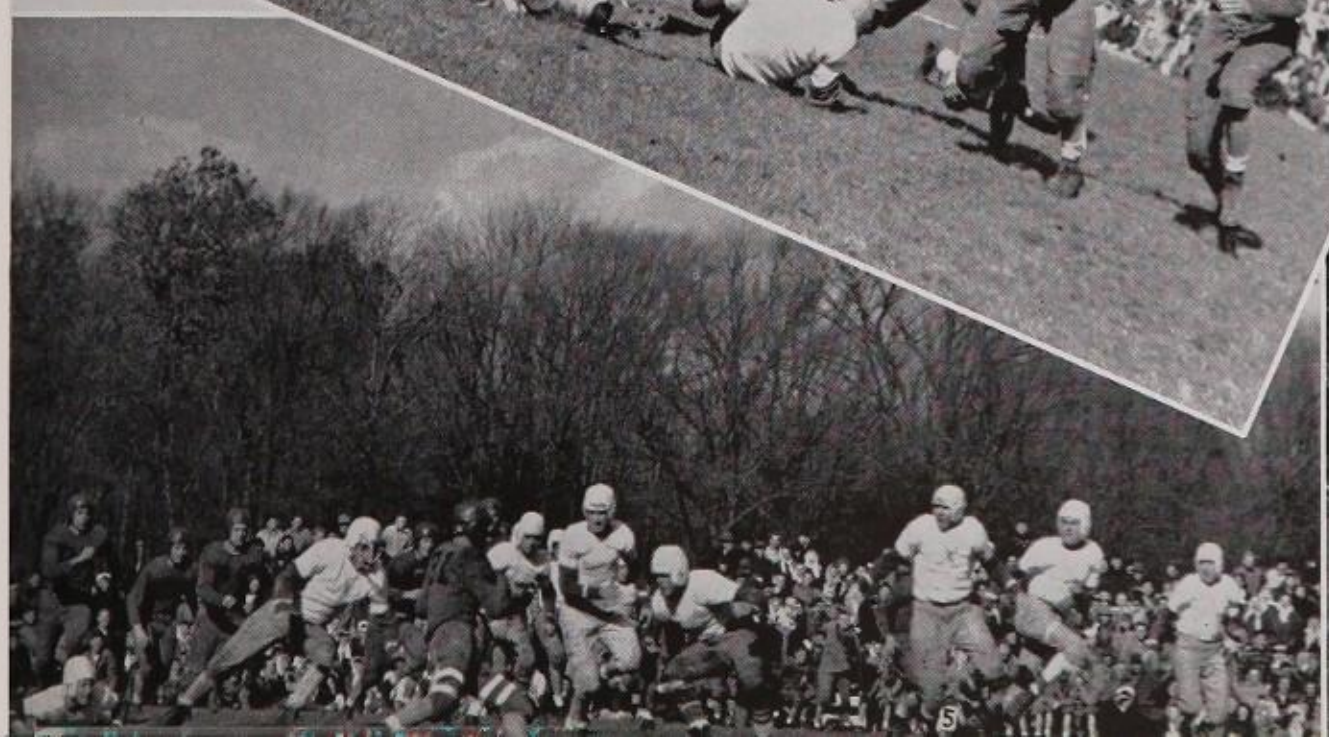
The Riverside-Brookfield game was a heartbreaker which we lost, 7-6. On the last play of the game we pushed the ball over, but the referee ruled that no one had possession of the ball when the game ended. In the heated game at Glenbard, both teams played good ball, but the game ended in a scoreless tie. Several substitutes saw action throughout the season, although few players were injured. Chase, Landgren, Norman, Kinyon, and Steingraber played considerably.

All during the season the Barons showed the aggressiveness and courage which have kept alive the spirited traditions of York.









Frosh-Soph Gridders Look Forward to Years on Varsity

The frosh-soph heavyweight football team this year showed the typical York fighting spirit which identifies all York teams. Although their scores do not point out this fact, they played good football and learned the vital necessities and fundamentals of football. These fundamentals, given to them by their capable coach, Mr. Ferry, will prove invaluable when the time comes for them to take their place on the varsity. Along with these fundamentals came experience, which is most certainly needed by a boy to excel in any sport. Behind each of the six hard-fought games lie hours, days, and weeks of practice and work. The outstanding eleven players on the team were the following: Armstrong, Barthelmy, Bell, Buelow, Rude, Thorwaldson, Whitaker, Rohdenburg, Pinnow, and Rosback. These boys will come to the final test in two or three more years when they show their skill to the audiences of our future varsity games.

The York frosh-soph lightweight footballers, under the tutelage of Mr. Pletcher, had a more successful season than their big brother heavyweights, winning four, tying one, and losing one. Some of the boys who will help our varsity in future years are: Ritter, Cedarholm, Sanford, Story, Dunnivant, Daubner, Kruse, Longnecker, Cunningham, Ketcham, and Klaeren.

York Cross-Country Team Is Second in Conference

York's Cross Country team came across with flying colors this year as they took second place in the conference standing. Under the excellent coaching of Mr. Russell they won every preliminary meet. In the Conference Meet York took second, while LaGrange ran first. At the Proviso Invitational, one of the biggest events of the year in which suburban and Chicago schools take part, York ran away with first place, breaking all previous scores.

Some of the outstanding runners of the season were: Bob Bogott, a returning letterman; Owen Dykema, who was elected captain for next year; Paul Sample, another letterman; Ken Lichtenheld, a returning letterman who will run again next year; and Johannes Jantzen, who took first place more than once. Coach Russell expressed his belief that next year's team will be even better and that they will have a good chance to take first place.

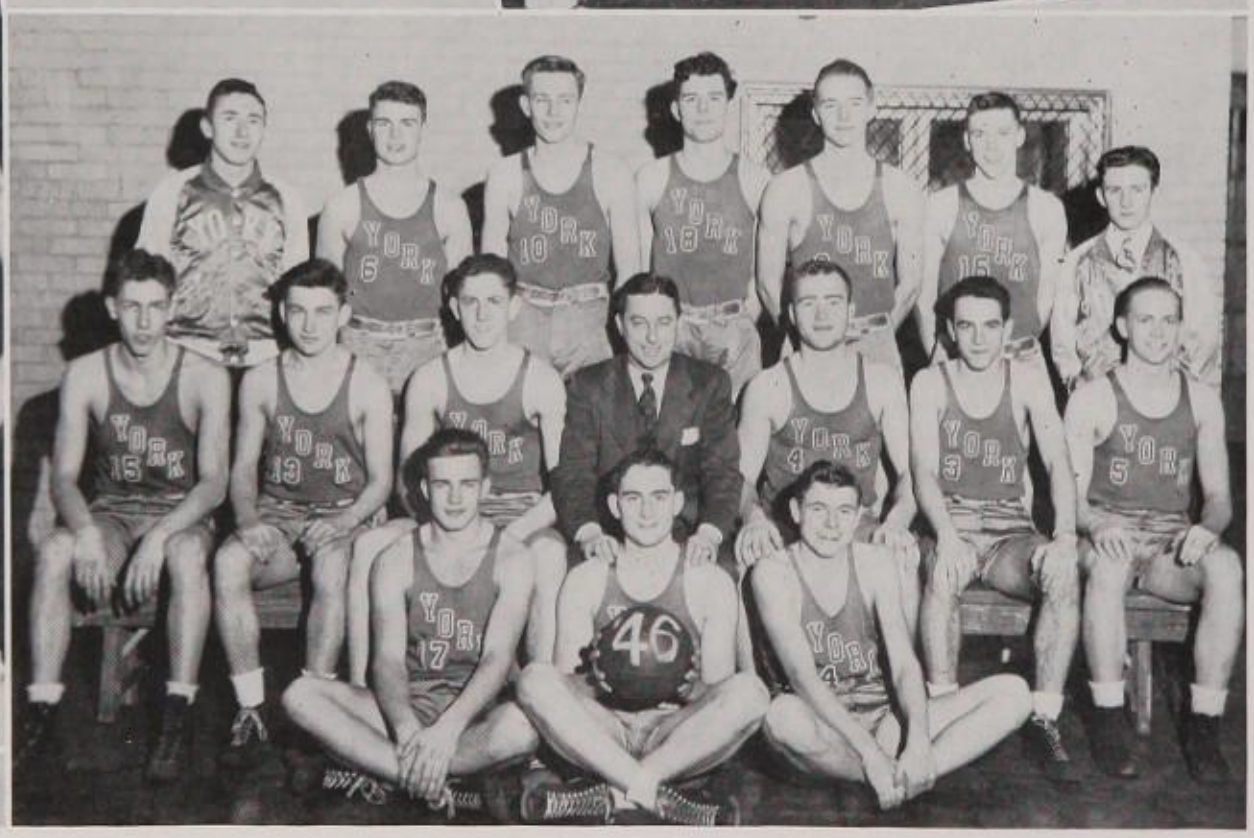
Dukes' Third Year of Basketball under Coach Fallon



This year's heavyweight basketball squad, under the direction of Coach Fallon, won four conference games and dropped eight to finish sixth in the conference. John Mueller, Co-captain and guard, was the only player with much previous experience. Most of the other regulars were playing their first full season. Manley, team high scorer, and Mack saw the most action as forwards. Co-captain Woeller and Orcutt manned the pivot position and each put in his share of rebounds. Koenig shared the guard positions with Mueller. In the first round of the conference, the Dukes had their ups and downs and trouble finding the hoop. They won the opener, but lost the following five games.

As the second round of play opened, the Dukes, gaining new life, lost three and won three. Playing sterling basketball the Dukes gave Glenbard, the league champs, the battle of their lives as they succumbed only in the last minute of play, 44-40.

Although they played a fast game, the Dukes dropped from the Regional Tournament by losing to Oak Park.

Ferry Guides the Lights Throughout a Rough Season

The 1945-46 edition of York's barons fought with real York spirit. Coach Ferry, in his third year at the Barons' helm, had an inexperienced team to work with. Although there were no returning lettermen, York's lightweights won their share of games. Had they won the four conference tilts which were dropped by one-point margins, the conference standings would have appeared vastly more favorable.

What the Barons lacked in experience they made up for in team spirit and fast play. Using a varied lineup, Coach Ferry alternated players in order to keep a strong team on the floor at all times. At the pivot position was Steingraber, team high scorer and a handy man on rebounds. Landgren, a sharp-shooting junior, filled one forward position capably throughout the season. Alternating between guard and forward were three small, fast lads. Captain Lowe, a good ball handler, was outstanding on defense. Green scored frequently from far out. Dagley played a fast, aggressive game.

Alternating at center with Steingraber was Moeck, a good shot and an accurate rebounder. Roehr and Larson also saw considerable action.

Frosh-Soph Cage Teams Prepare Players for Varsity

In the beginning of the season, Mr. Russell was the frosh-soph mentor. He was replaced by Mr. Silcott and Mr. Birks, who returned from the Navy and started teaching in the second semester.

Under the able leadership of these two coaches, the boys were really put through their paces. They played two games with schools in the conference. Under the conditions of new coaches and a tough schedule the teams came through fairly well.

Some of the better players on the lightweights were Boeger, Smith, Schlandt, Ritter, MacKenzie, and Maples. The most promising boys on the heavyweights were Schweppe, Thorwaldson, Krusi, Rhodenburg, Rosback, and Gillaspy. Most of these boys have high and well-founded hopes of appearing on York's future varsity teams.

GOLF SQUAD: Standing: Coach Pratt, Pinnow, Price, Samuel, Bogott, and Koenig; Sitting: J. Williams and R. Williams.

Golf and Tennis Teams Highlight Spring Sports Parade

York's golf team, under Mr. Pratt's guidance, had a full schedule this year, consisting of fourteen matches all within eight weeks. There were only three returning lettermen this year, Captain Bob Koenig, Howard Samuel, and Bob Bogott.

Five or six promising newcomers helped make the team stiff competition for all rivals. The boys spent many hours of practice after school and on weekends at White Pines Golf Course to condition themselves for their conference schedule. All members of the squad eagerly awaited the big event of the year, the Conference Meet.

The tennis team also had a heavy schedule—twelve matches, including the District and Conference Tournaments. Under Captain Bob Winne and the coaching of Mr. Kunze, the netmen made trouble for all comers. There were six lettermen who returned to bolster the ranks of the netmen, Don Davidson, Herb Lindroth, Dick St. Clair, Carl Fielitz, Jon Thorwaldson, and Captain Winne. To gain experience besides strengthening the team, the up and coming teams players who joined the squad were: Bob Adam, Oliver Burrows, Duane Rutlin, Roger Steingraber, and Ed Johnson.

East Tracksters Show Conference Aspirations This Year

Sporting a well-balanced and powerful team, York looks forward to this year's track season with the conference title as its goal. Last year York placed third in the conference meet, and they have been strengthened in many events this year. The Eastmen won almost all of their indoor meets this winter and should do even better outdoors where their strength in the field events will give them added points.

Thus far this season, York has captured most of the dual and triangular meets in which it has participated. In the Wheaton Relays the Eastmen finished second to Oak Park's state champions.

York has again come up with an outstanding shot-putter. Following in the footsteps of Martin Haufe is Co-captain John Mueller. York has an up-and-coming weightman in Turyna, a sophomore.

Broadjumping for York are Harbron and Patterson. Both have leaped 20 feet and may better this mark. Greinke has pole-vaulted over eleven feet this year, and if he continues to improve, he may capture the conference vault. Danfelser and Johnston are carrying the high-jump banner for York. They operate at around 5'8" and should collect their share of points during coming meets.

Thinclads Show Promise in Both Track and Field Events

In the dashes are Tiedemann, a swimmer in last year's Conference Meet, Anderson, a sophomore, and Harbron.

The York hurdlers have captured quite a few firsts this season and are steadily improving. Hurdling the timbers this season are Tom and Chester Herne, Orcutt, and Kolzow.

York's half-milers, Dykema and Co-captain Eckstein, brought their time down to about 2:05. Miller has been running both the half and quarter-mile event.

The 880 relay team of Harbron, Lichtenheld, Dykema, and Tiedemann has been improving steadily and should go places this year.

Eckstein, Bales, Dykema, and Miller compose the Eastmen's two-mile relay squad.

The York thinclads were again under the able guidance of Coach East, who is now in his twenty-fifth year at York. He was assisted by Mr. Russell.

The team was well managed by "Rickey" Smith and Dick Dickey, "the Terror."

Physical Education Program Keeps Boys in Top Shape

"Oh, my aching back!" No, someone has not fallen down the stairs and broken his back and sustained "minor injuries." It is just one of the printable, but true, comments of a gym enthusiast. While the gym classes are playing football, the games may be called rough; but there's no suitable term to describe a gym butcher—excuse me, a basketball game. Besides these well-known sports, other bone-breaking activities include tumbling and baseball. Every once in a while, when you perambulate by the gym or even while engrossed in studying, in the remotest corner of school, a shrill scream will split the silence. Immediately you know some boys have been wrestling again.

To balance the athletic side of gym and to develop the muscles not used in sports, the boys are given calisthenics. Though the strains are terrible and the casualty list is high, the boys cannot complain, for all the girls go wild over the "body beautiful."

Intramural Sports Provide Entertainment and Recreation

Each year, York's intramural program becomes larger in scope. The intramural program was originally organized in order that those boys who didn't participate in varsity athletics could enjoy competitive sports with boys of similar ability. Under Mr. Black's guidance it has grown steadily, and now several hundred boys participate in the year-round activities.

As the program got under way last fall, touch football teams of six men each played a schedule of six games per team. The championship teams, Teschner and R. Chapman, were awarded shields.

Basketball, the intramural's winter sport, was carried on until March. The underclassmen teams were organized into lightweight and heavyweight groups. The juniors and seniors had their own league. Awards were presented to the following winning teams: freshmen, Philip (lightweights); and Edwards (heavyweights); sophomores, Daubner (lightweights) and Bell (heavyweights); junior-senior, Bailey. In addition to captaining the junior-senior champs, Gilbert Bailey was Mr. Black's righthand man. He helped organize the basketball schedule and compiled records during the season.

The spring softball season has drawn an even larger turnout than any of the other phases of the program.

Mr. Black and his willing assistants are to be commended for their work toward a bigger and even better intramural program.
